

I really hope that the FCC does not over turn the do not call list in New Jersey. You have no idea how peacefull our house is with out all those calls. They always call at dinner time and usually do not take no for any answer and if you hang up they just call back. This is an ongoing problem for our seniors the people calling are usually rude and upsetting to our seniors in NJ. I don't like getting these phone calls and with a husband who is sometimes sick and sleeping they just keep waking him up. The other problem is that the people calling don't speak english and its very hard to understand them, I know alot of companies are using people from other countries to work for them and this is also a problem.

I hope that the do not call policy in New Jersey never changes, our state leaders did a very good job on this matter.

Thank You
